Summary

Passionate about leveraging AI to automate tasks and enhance productivity. With a strong foundation in C, C++, and Java, I specialize in building AI agents that streamline workflows, reduce manual effort, and improve efficiency.

Currently, I'm exploring platforms to create smart chatbots and automation solutions that empower businesses. My recent projects involve integrating AI voice agents and workflow automation tools like n8n to transform how work gets done.

If you're looking for AI-driven automation, let's connect and innovate together!
